Art Space Gallery

Art Space is tucked back off the main road in Exo Gonia, Santorini. Just follow the signs along the dirt road and you will discover this maze of tunnels lined with paintings by Greece's top and upcoming artists. Of course, you'll first find the owner, Antonis, inside; the man responsible for creating what is one of the best exhibitions in Greece today and written revered highly in many European magazines and travel guides.

Antonis travels throughout Greece to visit each artist and better understand the energy and environment from which their art takes its form. He selects the artists for his gallery based on his educated perception of their work does not ignore the lesser-known talent. You will be welcomed with a guided tour of this intriguing building from 1830, provided with background information on each artist, and given a sample of the wine Antonis produces himself in this very building. If you are a lover of paintings, Art Space does an impeccable job at introducing the best of Greece to you! I wish I had more photos, but I was not allowed to take photos, but I was given permission to use what I could extract from his brochure.
